The Protected By Allah

Did your mother ever ask you for a glass of water?..
Did you answer her quickly or were you too lazy to serve her?!.. Unfortunately, I was lazy, but I paid dearly for that.. That happened when I was playing with my favorite toys, and I heard my mother's voice from her room calling for me to bring her a glass of water. A simple request if she was calling a righteous boy!

A man asked The prophet of Allah:
'Who is the most deserving of people with my good companionship? '
He answered:
"Your mother, then your mother, then your mother!"

Toot, toot
, toot!

Wait for me, train!

This is my,
stomach sound
I'm hungry!

1, 2, 3
Go!

The minutes passed quickly while I was enjoying the game until I forgot my mother's request, but suddenly my stomach called me: 'Feed me, I will not allow you to forget me!', so I shouted simply: "Mom. I'm hungry", but mom didn't hurry to feed me nor even answered!..silence prevailed in the place and I felt intense fear...

But I suddenly remembered my mother's request, so I ran to the kitchen and quickly brought a glass of water to my mother's room saying: 'Mom, here is the water!' ...But my mother did not answer and did not open her eyes, her face was red and her breath was hurrying while she was groaning, then my heartbeat accelerated, and I tried to wake her up helplessly until I cried while repeating in my heart: "Lord, help my mother.. Lord, please do not take my mother from me!"..

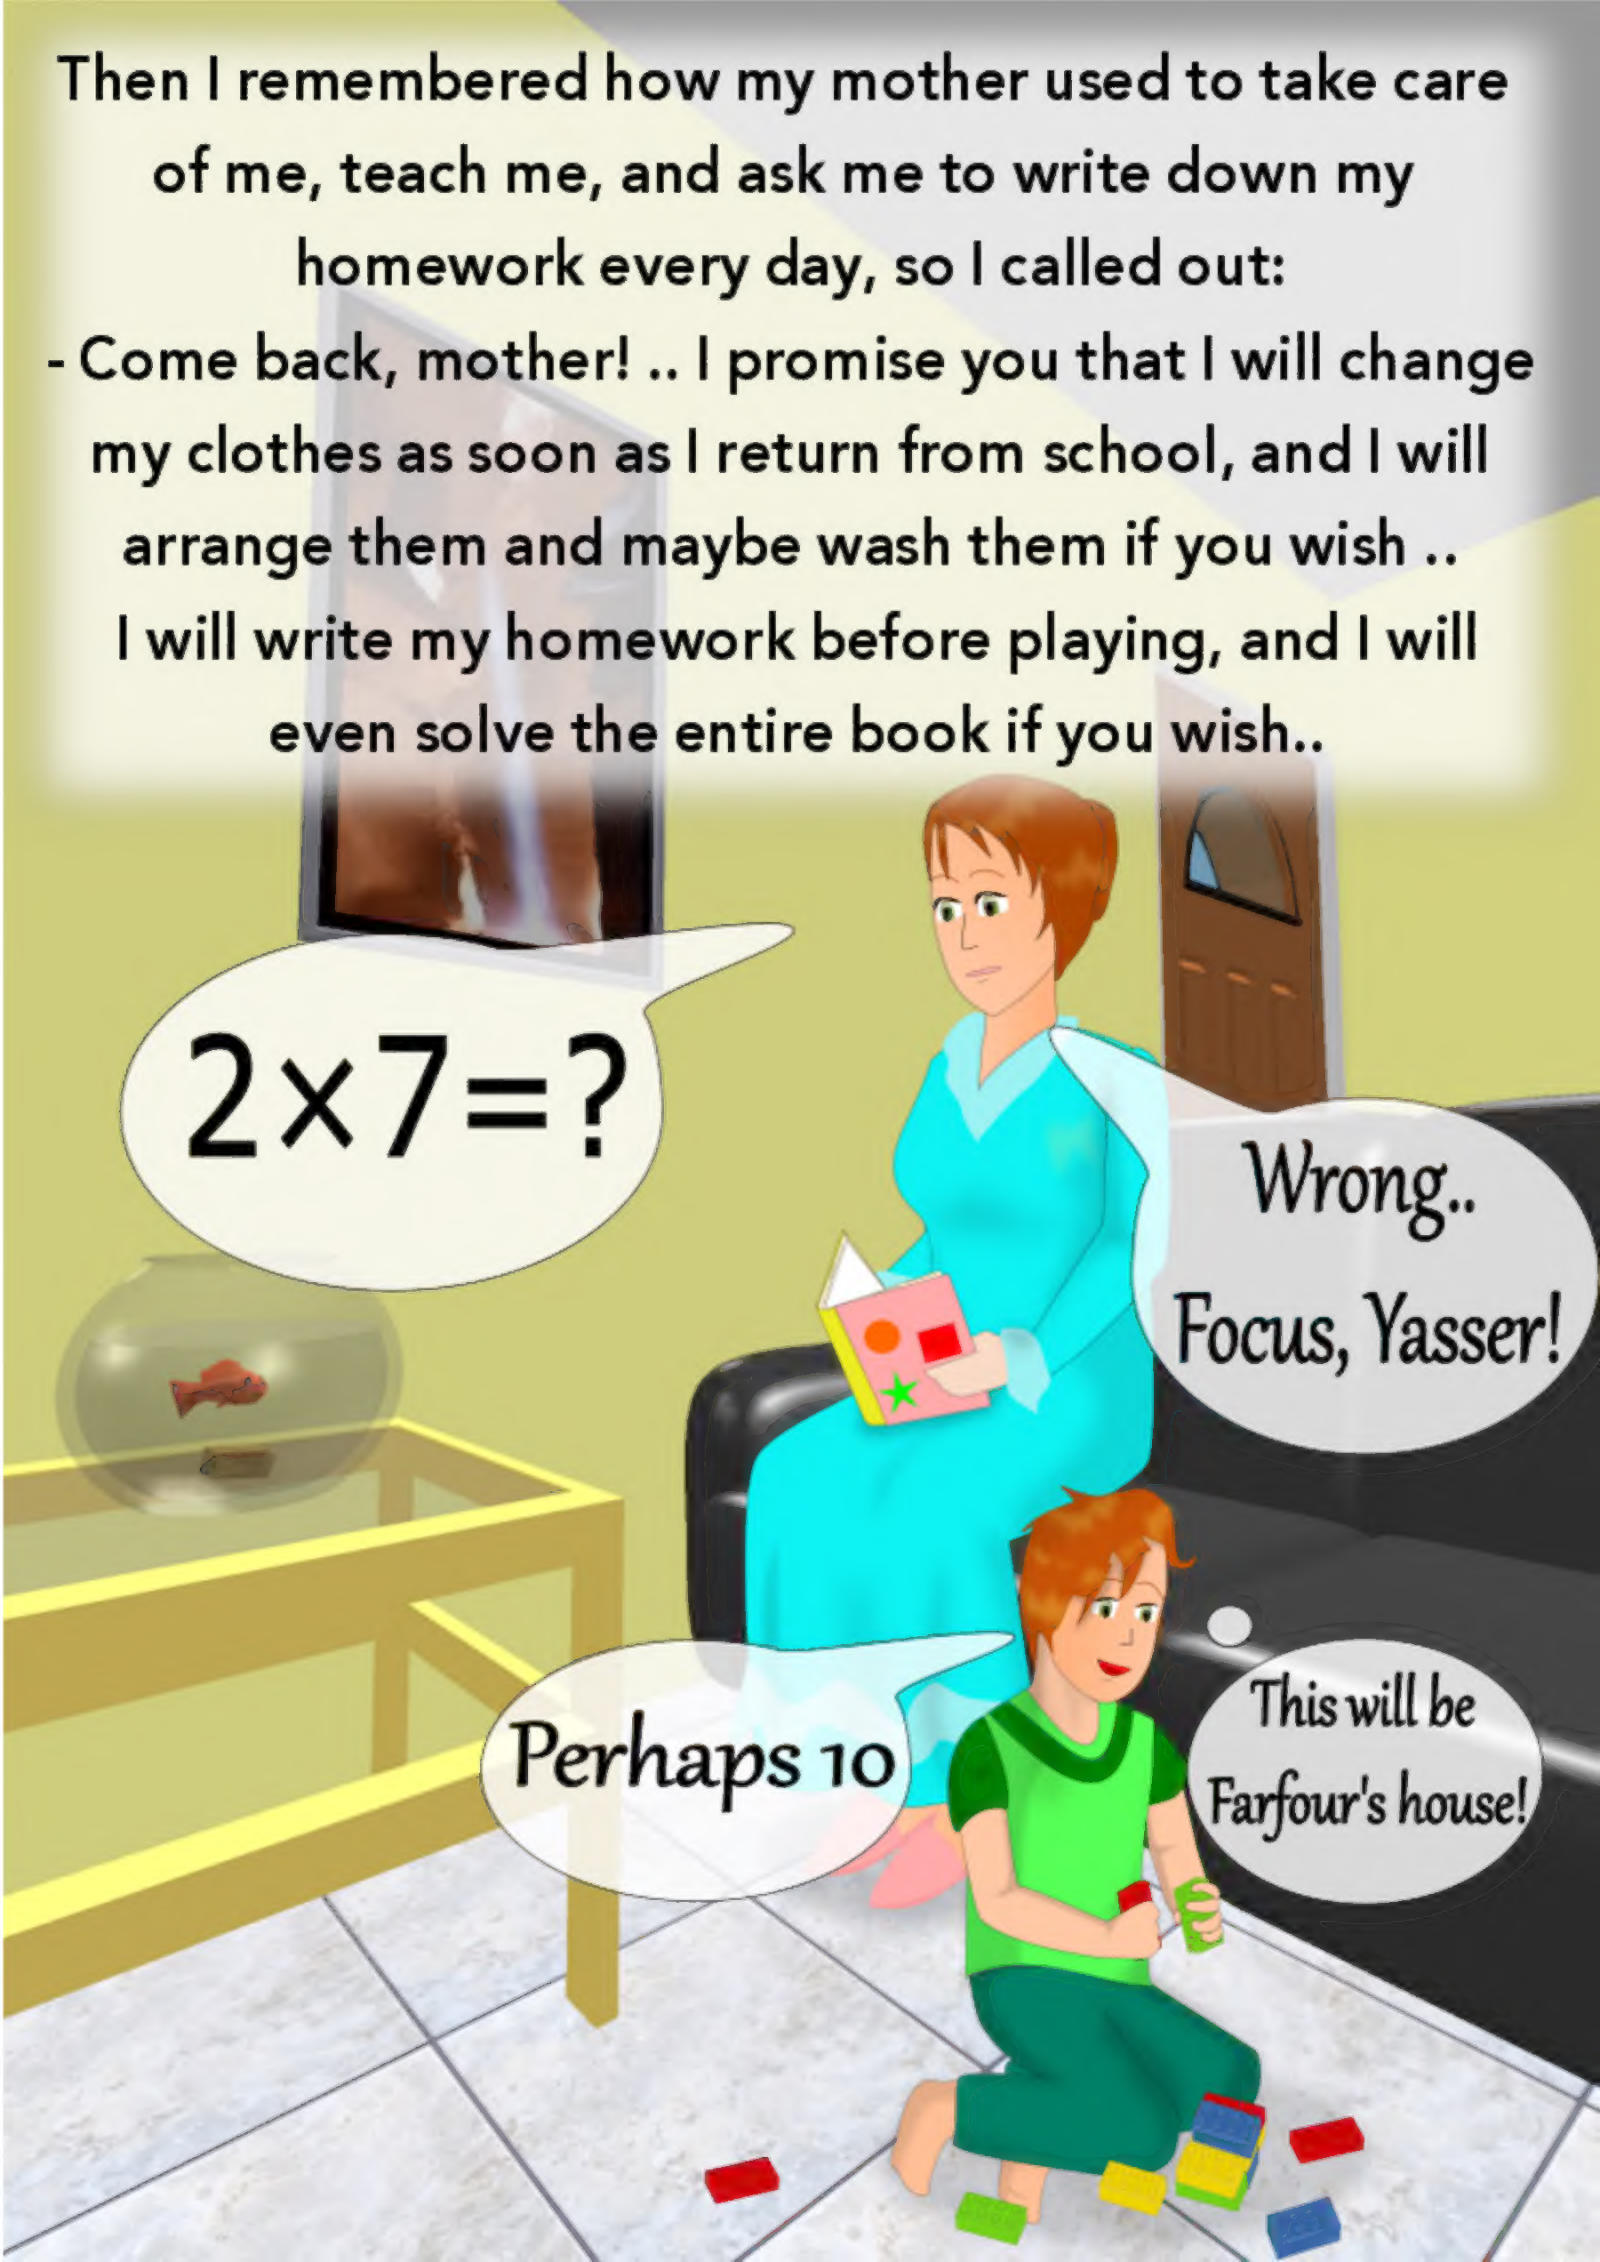

In my tears, I remember the happy past with my beloved mother, so I cried out:

- Come back, mother!.. I promise you that I will fulfill your requests without laziness, I will bring you glasses, but barrels of water if you wish.. I will eat my whole meal without bothering you after today, and I can eat the whole pot if you want!

Then I remembered how my mother used to take care of me, teach me, and ask me to write down my homework every day, so I called out:

- Come back, mother! .. I promise you that I will change my clothes as soon as I return from school, and I will arrange them and maybe wash them if you wish .. I will write my homework before playing, and I will even solve the entire book if you wish..

$$2 \times 7 = ?$$

Wrong..
Focus, Yasser!

Perhaps 10

This will be Farfour's house!

Forgive him this time. He will never misbehave like this again!

Please mom, save me!

How ashamed I am of myself

Every time you say the same thing, but yet he doesn't get better..

I remembered how wrong I was and my mother apologized for me, so I cried saying:

- Come back, mother! .. I promise that I will stop disturbing my teacher and my colleagues, and I will also stop angering my father .. I promise that I will become polite and decent as you always ask me, and I may even take a literature certificate if you wish!

How many times have I told you to do your homework
before bedtime?

Yasser!.. Why haven't you reached your bed yet?!
.. Look what time
it is!

Sorry, Mom!

Mom..wait a moment until I finish
this homework

I remembered how many times I slept late despite my mother's advices, so I tired her of waking me up in the morning, so I called out:

- Come back, mother!.. I promise you that I will sleep early every day before you tell me, and I promise not to drink a lot of water before bed, as I promise you that I will recite the prayer of sleep and also I will recite a surah, but maybe I will recite the entire Qur'an if you wish!

And I remembered how many times my mother reminded me to pray whenever the call to prayer was given, so I called out:

- Come back, mother!.. I promise to pray the five daily prayers.. Dawn, Noon, After-noon, Sunset and Evening prayers.. At the time of virtue (the beginning of the time) like the saints of Allah!.. I will pray quietly and read well, exactly as you taught me, even if that takes the whole day, my mother!

My mom was right!, the happiness of prayer is related to its perfection!

I will read well and love to pray to become one of the saints of Allah whom He loves!

Finally, I remembered my mother's sympathy for me and her overwhelming tenderness. If she was awake, she would not have left me crying like this without speaking to me.. Mother.. Forgive me, Mother.. Out of my grief, I poured the glass of water on my head, hoping that my mother would pity me and open her eyes, which are dear to my heart.. and then what happiness I am!

Mom..don't you pity me?!

Ah..
what is this?!

I hugged my mother crying with joy:

- Mother.. The crown of my head.. The light of my eyes.. never leave me again.. forgive me, and I promise you that I will be The Good Yasser, and you will be proud of your son, Allah willing!

Can you fill in the blanks with the strange things that Yasser exaggerated in the story?

Mother : Yasser.. Do you know?!.. I was dreaming about you while I was asleep!

Yasser laughed and said: Do you know why you dreamed of all this, my beloved mother?

Mother : I may be delirious because of illness! 🤒

Yasser : No!..but because I love you, my mother, so much that I will memorize the entire Quraa'n in order to wear you a crown of light in heaven, Allah willing, mom! 😍

Do you know why the mother dreamed of all these details that Yasser mentioned in his promises??

Can you find out the seven differences between the two drawings?

Can you help Yasser to bring a glass of water to his mother without let him play with his toys?
